

Consultare Consulting hand in hand with us you will succeed

We are a globally operating consulting firm and our services are the following:

Sales Management

We help you to sell your products. We can be the link between you and your customers and assist you in all distribution processes in Asia. We find customers for your products and get people to purchase your products.

Marketing and Event Management

We organize your business events, such as ceremonies, conferences and corporate events, road shows, trade fairs and congresses. You can rely on the planning and preparatory work for us.

Purchasing Management

Do you think that we can assist you in purchasing and procurement?
They try to reduce material costs? They have trouble finding reliable suppliers? They want to be globally competitive? We support your purchases from our expertise.

Professional services

Higher performance through systematic thinking. We will help you increase your company's performance by analyzing systematically and we identify potential improvements. We will advise you in all your needs, whether in company foundations or in daily business processes. We help with the planning, the organization and the management of your company, for example in the restructuring, the development of a management system or in financial planning. You have our promise.