

Welcome to Consultare Consulting.

We are a is a global business consulting firm covering a variety of business sectors. Our expertise includes the purchasing and procurement of products and components, the international distribution of your products and the appropriate marketing, further more professional services such as business foundation, planning, organization and management of your company.

Higher performance through systematic thinking. You have our promise.

Our services are appreciated inter alia in the automotive industry, the food and grocery industry, in manufacturing sector or in the semicon industries. Whether in the market introduction of products and services or in the operational corporate governance, we offer expert help to establish your company in the market. Thus, we represent companies such as Microhandling Asia from Singapore or the company Corasu from Holland.

Our team consists professionals who are highly responsible, success-oriented, dependable, reliable, conscientious, hardworking, scientifically and methodically qualified. We are ever willing to discover our customers needs and requirements in order to provide guidance and management services to make your company successful.

At the following pages you will encounter everything about the Consultare Consulting. We wish you a pleasant stay on our website.

Your Consultare Consulting team